Welcome back after a relaxing Easter break ready to the start another new term!

The school is delighted to have the children back and again, welcome our new intakes. Delightful to watch the numbers steadily growing!

I would want to use this medium to say, congratulations to the winners of the Easter fashion parade, most especially to our parents for supporting with generous donations towards a worthy cause-the Red Cross. Let's not forget the sassy parent catwalk!!

Over the Easter break, the school management continued to put in place positive changes to enhance and prepare the learning environment for the children.

In the ICT suite, the working stations have been repositioned, all tabletops are now in clear visibility, affording hands on learning as well as facilitating immediate intervention and support during teaching time.

The music department now can blow its own trumpet with the latest addition of musical instruments. This is a wonderful achievement which affords greater variety and opportunity for all children learning to play the different musical instruments. (Clarinet Saxophones and two new keyboards)

The cradle and crèche can now fully boast of constant uninterrupted light. No longer at the mercy of the general electrical service!

Over the holiday, the installation of a new inverter was put in place; this ensures that, this sensitive area stays safe and comfortable for our youngest children. The additional learning resources for EYFS are growing for effective learning and developmental role play.

Blooming Greens makes every effort to encourage all children to come back to school happy in a secure environment laced with fun learning experiences, The drive for our Literacy is ongoing and we continue to urge parents to take time to read with the children as well as signing the reading log.

The push on healthy eating and five a day is key, we are appealing to parents to ensure packed lunch does have some element of fruit.

Blooming Greens remains steadfast to offering the best all round education in work and play. Once again welcome back. Please note that all clubs will take off next week.

Newsletters are available on the school website.
